

Pigs and wolf

(Michal Kanik)

Once upon a time there were 432:144 pigs, which were very small. How many pigs were there? Their mother left them and they became lonely. One day they argued and separated. Each one had his own house. The first one had a house from the hay the second had the house from the wood and the third one from the stone. The wolf came to know about pigs. He was very hungry. He said: I have a big chance to eat them! I will catch them one by one. He came near the hay's house and knocked on the door. There was re-echoed from the house: Password! He thought about it and said: Hay. No, it was re-echoed. I don't know your password, said the wolf sadly. So if you don't know the password, you will have to answer on one task. Start! Farmer had one pig. Every day he got him 400g of food. One day he made a mistake and he got him 3,5% more. How many kilos of food did the farmer give him? The wolf didn't answer correctly so the pig didn't open the door. The wolf drew a deep breath and started to blow as strong as he could. Dom was breaking down. The pig ran away. So he decided to visit the second pig. While the wolf was walking, Ferko ran to the George. Fero was knocking and asking for a saying: I am sorry. Please forgive me! George opened the door. Ferko said: We have to hide! The wolf is coming! Everything was repeated. George gave him another task. Farmer had a pig, every day he gave him 8 kg of straw. One day he gave him

45g of straw less. How many kilos of straw did the farmer give him? The wolf didn't know the answer so they didn't open the door. The wolf drew a deep breath and started to blow as strong as he could. The house was breaking down again. The pigs and the wolf were running in to the third house. Pigs were asking John to allow into his house. When the wolf came everything was repeated except the task. It was different. Farmer had a pig and every day he gave him 4l of water. One day he made mistake and he gave him 0,48ml more. How many litres of water did the farmer give him? The wolf didn't know the answer and they didn't open the door. The wolf drew a deep breath and started to blow as strong as he could, but the house didn't break down. Pigs and wolf were very surprised. They found out that if the house is built from the stone, it is the hardest. The pigs called the hunter and he shot the wolf. Ferko and George started to build houses near the John's house. How many stones do they need when they have the rectangle's house, the measurements are 3m and 6m and you need 12 stones for 1 meter? The pigs were happy together.
